Listings

Advice for readers

While listings are accurate at time of going to press, nightlife events are notoriously changeable in Dubai. We strongly recommend that you use the telephone numbers provided to check for further details before a given night. Venue addresses and telephone numbers can be found in alphabetical order in the venue directory at the end of the listings. For further information visit www.timeoutdubai.com. If you have any comments or suggestions, please ring the nightlife editor Andy Buchan on: 04 210 8240.

Advice for contributors

Listings for the following week's issue must arrive by the Wednesday of each week. Include the name of activity/event, venue, contact details and website, taxi landmark, cost, start and end timings, and a short description. Email information to: andy.buchan@itp.com. If you have difficulty sending by email, please ring 04 210 8240. Listings are free, but as space is limited, inclusion is not guaranteed.

Proggy, techy and with a touch of electro thrown in for good measure, expect some heavy legs the next day.

Hed Kandi Chi, 10pm-3am, Dhs75 after midnight. If you want some soulful, handbag friendly house then this is the ticket for you.

Miss Quo Feat. MC Bambino Tube (Habor Grand), 10pm-3am, tickets

King Unique

King Unique = Dirty House, and according to their website, that's all you need to know. The notorious electrohouse duo, namely DJ Matthew Roberts and studio-head Matt Thomas, have already played at some of the biggest party places around, and with their bashing basslines and raw sound, they should whip the Chi crowd into shape. Chi at The Lodge Thursday 19 April, 10pm-3am, tickets Dhs75 and ladies free before midnight.

Dhs75. R&B, hip hop and dancehall from one of the UK's rising stars.
Picnic On The Park Dubai Polo

Filthy Gorgeous

The Ibiza-based duo hit 360° with their sleazy electro house tunes on Thursday April 19. Entrance is free and the fun starts from 10pm.
